Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 1/16/4 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on ____.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

This communication is in response to the documents dated 1/16/04. Claims 1-23 are pending in the application. Claim 1 is the independent claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 14 and 16 recite the limitation "said" in "said authentication processor" and "said" in "said communication unit". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claims. There are no limitations "authentication processor" and "communication unit" in claim 1. Appropriate action is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-4, 6, 11, 13, 17-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Shear et al. (US 6938021).

As per claim 1, Shear et al. teach personal records containing ... as individual members of the system – col. 36, last paragraph; col. 40, lines 6-38; col. 58, line 60 to col. 59, line 59.

entity records... entity members..- col. 9, lines 27-55; col. 61, lines 34-63.

a database manager that permits access to said ..records ...- col. 13, line 63 to col. 14, line 11; col. 42, lines 53 to col. 43, line 15; col. 47, lines 29-56.

... searches said personal base and said entity base ... and correlation among the records – col. 5, lines 1-47; col. 9, line 27 to col. 10, line 4.

As per claim 2, Shear et al. teach authentication to individual or entity – col. 66, lines 30-67.

As per claims 3-4, Shear et al. teach permits communications of said user with the system and logs the usage and generate reports – col. 10, line 5-56; col. 14, line 35 to col. 15, line 13; col. 24, lines 4-7.

As per claim 6, Shear et al. teach personal profile and reference profile for a particular user – col. 9, lines 27-55; col. 15, 1st paragraph.

As per claim 11, Shear et al. teach security for accessing – fig. 36; col. 47, lines 29-55.

As per claim 13, Shear et al. teach iteratively ... modified, and updated to accommodate participants, and processes within the secure environment – col. 26, lines 39-48.

As per claims 17-18, Shear et al. teach medication of records and authorization of changes – col. 68, line 25 to col. 69, line 67.

As per claim 19, Shear et al. teach groups of employees, accounting and financial information – col. 58, line 60 to col. 13. (Relating to payroll, a company should have a record of past, current, and future employees).

As per claims 20-23, Shear et al. teach employers may access employee profiles; employees can access to employers – col. 59, lines 14-25; col. 60, lines 13-23; col. 63, line 60 to col. 64, line 32.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2163

Claims 5-9, 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shear et al. (US 6938021), and further in view of Reivette et al. (US 20030046307).

As per claims 5-6, Shear et al. do not teach each of said individual database containing said personal records for one said individual member. Reivette teaches customers can be individuals or organizations – pars. 0297-0299; loading the BOM databases ...and a customer will have his own database that stores BOM data – pars. 0874-0875. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine both teachings to allow each individual or customer to effectively manipulate his/her own data.

As per claim 7, Shear et al. teach profiles - col. 9, lines 27-55; col. 15, 1st paragraph; Shear et al. teach do not teach multimedia. Reivette teaches information/data can be multimedia – par. 0314. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine both teachings to allow users profiles be created, stored, and displayed in rich media types.

As per claims 8-9, Shear et al. teach employee files containing information about the associated employers and organization profiles with its authorized representative who may use the system – col. 59, line 14 to col. 60, line 23; col. 63, lines 12-27.

Art Unit: 2163

As per claim 12, Shear et al. do not teach dynamic links. Reivette teaches dynamic links – par. 1346. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine both teachings to allow users to navigate through data quickly and efficiently.

Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shear et al. (US 6938021), Reivette et al. (US 20030046307), and further in view of Guyan et al. (US 20030023473).

As per claim 10, Shear et al. do not teach relational databases. Reivette et al. teach relational databases – pars. 0371, 0434. However, Shear et al. and Reivette et al. do not teach one to many and many to one relationships. Guyan et al. teach multimedia content – par. 0072 ; client profiles – par. 0079 ; relationships : one to many and many to one – pars. 1005, 1012, 1013. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine both teachings to allow each individual or customer to effectively define the relationship between employees and employers in case of an employee works for a few employers, and an employer that has several employees.

Claims 14-16 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shear et al. (US 6938021), Reivette et al. (US 20030046307), and further in view of Felsher (US 20020010679).

Art Unit: 2163

As per claims 14-16, Shear et al. teach control access...passwords, smart cards, and biometrics, accessing via a global communication network/internet – fig. 4, lines 27-67; fig. 36; col. 47, lines 29-55; col. 28, lines 29-34. Shear and Reivette do not teach biometric. Felsher teach authentication to access systems using password, biometric etc... - pars. 0041-0042. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine the teachings to better secure computer systems.
